

Dear Jeff,

Thank you for speaking to the Council Bluffs Chamber of Commerce this month. I really enjoyed your presentation. I work for the American Cancer Society and our division has been focusing on efficiency and productivity, making your content very timely. As a nationwide non-profit organization we use quite a bit of electronic communication to keep costs down, and I appreciated your insight on managing those aspects of my daily routine. As well as ideas to balance work/home as my job requires many evenings meeting with volunteers. I have read a few of your articles as well and will be sharing them with my colleagues. Thank you for giving me tools to better focus my time and energy, I appreciate it very much.

Sincerely,

Arian Haddix
