Dear Jeff,

As a pastor, I tend to watch both style and content, and would rate yours both very high, Jeff. Your delivery had energy, variety, and excellent contact with the audience. Your material was thoughtful and interesting. Your language was understandable, not academic. You communicated.

I would suggest that you change little if anything about your delivery. I would imagine that you adjust to different audiences, and I know that speaking to a television camera is different than speaking to real people. I thought you were able to speak well to both audiences.

Gold stars to you, Jeff, for excellent work! While I will be deleting my name from other mailing lists, I would appreciate it, if you would add my name to yours.

My best personal wishes.

Dr. John H. Cushman
