Dear Jeff,

Nice show last Friday. Many thanks for providing a thoughtful, lively celebration of the end of term for all of us. As I walked to meetings this week, judging when to leave the office, your quote "Coach Smith told us if someone is late to meet you, then that person is telling you his time is more important than yours..." spurred me to leave adequate time. These notes are the sorts of things we should encourage all students to do on their readings.

Sincerely,

Ed Tower

Professor and Director of Undergraduate Studies in Economics
