Good Morning Mr. Davison:

I met you briefly after your talk at the Kaiser Open Season Seminar on Friday, October 24, 2008 in Washington, DC.

I want to express how wonderful I thought your presentation was and how it helped me to more manage my workload Friday afternoon and this morning. Before I opened my email, I thought it best that I write you this letter with hopes you'd respond with the DVD and free CD on having more Breathing Space. I'm sure that I could learn more about how to better manage my office and have more "Breathing Space."

I thank you and look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,
