It was a pleasure to see you again last week. Three times before I have attended programs you presented. Each time I learn more. I am remiss in telling you how valuable the information has been.

In 1987, I attended your workshop on writing articles for publication. It was so easy to get published after that workshop, I was amazed. You can be sure I was unconsciously incompetent on how to get published. Thanks for helping me move my career along through the visibility of being published.
