Dear Jeff:

I was pleased to learn of the topic on stress scheduled for our State Government Planners Meeting in July. Since our department is being reorganized and we are in a transition state, your presentation was on target for me.

Not only was your information interesting and useful, but you stayed focused. Your remarks were to the point, clear, and easy to follow. Almost everyone likes handouts; I love them. Handouts keep note taking to a minimum. Thanks!

Again, it was a evening well spent; and I look forward to reading your books. Maybe I'll get another chance to hear you. I hope so.

Sincerely,
