Dear Jeff,

Your talk at the MGMA meeting was a godsent and a great kick-off to the conference for me. I've been ruminating for a long time on our culture's obsession with always being busy and was pleasantly surprised to be pushed in the direction of "Breathing Space." It has become a mantra, of sorts, for me. I have taken many of your suggestions to heart and have shared them with my colleagues. Thanks for bringing some common sense into our out-of-control lives and for doing it in such an entertaining and convincing fashion.

Sincerely,
