Dear Jeff:

Our 1986 Management Seminar turned out to be one of the best and most informative of the past years, and it was due in large part to your one-day management presentation. As expected, your approach was very well suited to our young participants and we feel that they gained valuable insight into what makes up the ideal supervisor/manager.

We had not planned on the two speakers interrupting your flow, and hope it didn't inconvenience you in any way.

Again, we express our thanks to you for a job well done and will certainly think of you next year should our Seminar stress management techniques.

Sincerely,

Henry Brehm
Vice President
