Dear Jeff:

I know the time has slipped by and it is now over a month since I had the privilege of attending your breakout session on "Breathing Space" at the Winter Workshop in San Francisco. I attended your workshop because the promotion about it sounded interesting, but left with my mind filled with so many thoughts and considerations about what I could do to make my life less cumbersome and more productive. Your handouts were great -- thanks -- I've shared them with several of my co-workers and friends. Your presentation was captivating -- it was given at the end of a very full day -- at the end of a very full workshop -- and even though I was mentally and physically tired, you had my attention from the very beginning to the end of the presentation.

Thank you for all the time you have put into your very innovative concepts about time and time management and for helping me to begin to better utilize the time that has been given to me.

Sincerely,

Wanda M. Hadeen
