

SURGICAL ASSOCIATES

OF SOUTH CAROLINA, P.A.

March 20, 2006

Dear Jeff,

I really enjoyed your key-note presentation at the 2006 FMS Conference in San Diego.

The concept of the increasing population and how that applies to more of everything in our lives is astounding. I really never thought of it that way. As our world gets "smaller" things become more stressful. There is much less "Breathing Space" for all of us, which ultimately creates more stress and more challenges in our daily lives. Our priority now is to be aware of that and to try to find more breathing room to protect the space we have.

I look forward to receiving your live-recording.

Sincerely,

Lori S. Tatarsky, M.H.A.
Surgical Associates of South Carolina, P.A.
1850 Laurel Street
Columbia, SC 29201
ltatarsky@surgicalassociatesofsc.com

C. Alden Sweatman
M.D., F.A.C.S.

Robert H. Bunch
M.D., F.A.C.S.

J. Benjamin Tribble
M.D., F.A.C.S.

Dalton S. Prickett
M.D., F.A.C.S.

Chad A. Rubin
M.D., F.A.C.S.

Chinmay S. Majmundar
M.D.

Scott W. Taber
M.D., F.A.C.S.

Harris H. Parker, III
M.D.