

September 29, 1999

Jeff Davidson, MBA, CMC
Breathing Space Institute
2417 Honeysuckle Road, #2A
Chapel Hill, NC 27524-6819

Dear Jeff

I attended your sessions at the 1999 MMGMA Summer conference in Alexandria, MN. I was there as a vendor for ViroMed Laboratories. I enjoyed attending the sessions and particularly enjoyed your two presentations. On my arrival back to Spring Lake Park, MN, I threw out most of the clothes in my closet and my husband and I started a huge project to rid our basement of 29 years of married accumulation!!

The session that was most intriguing to me was on furthering my career. I have spent many years working part time or not at all because I found it more important and more rewarding to raise our two children. However, at this point in my life, a career has become important. I am in my early 50's and feel like I am spinning my wheels. The part about becoming "indispensable" really hit home. I am working on that one area. The other important information I gathered was that "all leaders are speakers"!! I have done some presentations and I have been the leader of many school and church groups. However, I still do not consider myself a speaker!! I seem to lack the self-confidence one needs. HOWEVER – I intend to work on this.

Thanks for your inspiration and information. I hope I will have an opportunity to hear you again!!

Best Wishes

Carol Anderson, MT (ASCP)
Account Manager
ViroMed Laboratories