

How to Find Information on Anything

WHAT: Learning Forum

WHEN: June 14

WHERE: Anthony House Hotel
1823 L St., N.W.

Washington, D.C. is the information capital of the planet. This presentation will offer techniques and strategies for finding information on any conceivable topic area. Numerous data banks, special libraries, key reference materials and little-known directories will be cited. This will enable attendees to initiate research projects or answer single questions with increased efficiencies. No large budget or sophisticated computer is necessary. Jeff Davidson — speaker, consultant and author — will speak at this breakfast meeting at the Anthony House Hotel.
