Living and Working at a Comfortable Pace in a Sped-up Society

Jeff Davidson, Author, Chapel Hill, NC

You would like to leave the office at a decent hour, but you feel that you have to deal with the mounting paperwork staring you in the face. You purchased a health club membership but you cannot seem to find time use it. You would like to entertain on Saturday night, but you are too tired from a hectic week. During this session, author Jeff Davidson will help you regain control. This is not another approach to time management. Instead, this session will help you reduce the clutter that leaves you feeling pressed for time. If you can relate to this topic, you will want to make time to attend.
