TCCE Today

Texas Chamber of Commerce Executives

88th Annual Conference & Trade Show

FRIDAY, JULY 29, 1994

HYATT REGENCY AUSTIN

Wow! What a conference!

Hats off to Conference Chairman John Myers, CCE and his committee for one of the most informative and entertaining conferences TCCE has ever had. The Austin Chamber of Commerce has been a great host. Don't forget to let them know you appreciate their support of our organization.

TCCE is the oldest and largest state chamber executive association in the nation. Thank you for the honor of serving as its President for this year. Russell Autry, CCE, has certainly left big shoes to fill. Russell is one of those individuals who is never a stranger to anyone. You meet Russell once and you have a friend for life. His dedication to TCCE and our profession this past year was very evident, and I, personally, am very appreciative of his service and his friendship.

Your plan of action for 1994/95 is based upon the results of our membership survey and strategic planning retreat. The goals are what you, the members, stated the priorities should be for your organization. Make yourself a promise before you leave the conference. Sign up for one of the committees and become an active member. You'll find that not only will the organization benefit, but you, too, will grow personally and professionally by networking throughout the year. Our committee meetings are conducted by conference calls so they can fit into your schedule and your budget. I also would encourage you to attend any of our board meetings. It is an excellent way to find out what is going on and to find an area that could use your assistance.

TCCE needs and wants your help! Let's work together to make the chamber profession in Texas one of respect and serve our communities to the best of our abilities. I'll see you at lunch with my "BIG SURPRISE"

With warm regards,

Douglas S. Kinsinger, CCE

I'M NOT STRESSED OUT!!!!

Jeff Davidson will tell us how to chill out from 10:30 A.M. - 12:30 P.M. in Hill Country A-C.

Regarded by many as the personal embodiment of breathing space, Jeff is an award winning author, lecturer, columnist, media personality, entrepreneur, philosopher and much more. Each year since 1982, his published articles on business, motivation, self-help and humor have reached an aggregate circulation exceeding 12,000,000 readers.

By age 40, he had more words published than William Shakespeare. Cumulatively, his books have been selected by book clubs twenty times. Since 1987, on average, someone in America buys one of his books every 8.5 minutes.

You definitely need to be here.

BOARD MEETING OPEN TO ALL

The 1994-95 Officers and Directors will meet from 2:00-4:00 P.M. Friday in the Pan Handle Room. All members are welcomed and encouraged to attend.

The Texas Chamber of Commerce Executives has been dedicated to higher efficiency and professional standards in the management of chambers of commerce in Texas since 1906.
